Each of the Parties has considered its expenditures in preparing for performance of and performing this Agreement and possible losses resulting from its termination. It is expressly understood that this right of termination is absolute and that neither Party shall be liable to the other for damages, or otherwise, resulting from expiration or termination of this Agreement in accordance with its terms. THE PARTIES ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THIS SECTION HAS BEEN INCLUDED AS A MATERIAL INDUCEMENT FOR DATACORE TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT AND THAT DATACORE WOULD NOT HAVE ENTERED INTO THIS AGREEMENT BUT FOR THE LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY AS SET FORTH HEREIN.

6.3. Effect of Termination. Notwithstanding any expiration or termination of this Agreement, Sections 1, 2, 3.2, 4.2, 5, 6.3, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11 shall survive and remain in effect in accordance with their terms. Termination or expiration of this Agreement does not release CSP from any obligation or liability it may have to DataCore or an Aggregator with respect to the DCSP, DCSP Point Plans, DCSP Software or otherwise.

7. WARRANTY DISCLAIMER. EXCEPT FOR THE LIMITED WARRANTIES SET FORTH IN CSP EULAS, DATACORE MAKES NO REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND RELATING TO THE DCSP, THE DCSP SOFTWARE OR SUPPORT SERVICES FOR THE DCSP SOFTWARE. TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, IN NO EVENT SHALL DATACORE'S AGGREGATE LIABILITY TO CSP ARISING OUT OF OR RELATED TO THIS AGREEMENT OR THE DCSP EXCEED $1000 USD. THE FOREGOING LIMITATIONS SHALL APPLY NOTWITHSTANDING THE FAILURE OF ESSENTIAL PURPOSE OF ANY LIMITED REMEDY STATED IN THIS AGREEMENT.

10. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

10.1. Use and Disclosure. All non-public information provided by one Party to the other Party that (a) is disclosed in writing and marked as "confidential" (or "proprietary") at the time of disclosure, or (b) is orally disclosed but identified as confidential at the time of disclosure, and is designated as "confidential" in a written memorandum delivered to the other Party within thirty (30) days of disclosure, summarizing the Confidential Information sufficiently for identification (the "Confidential Information") constitutes confidential information of the disclosing Party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, "Confidential Information" includes, without limitation, DataCore customer lists and customer information, and any information regarding future DataCore products or services (including, without limitation, DataCore product road maps), whether or not such information is marked, identified or summarized in writing as confidential. Neither Party shall disclose any of the other Party's Confidential Information to any third party (other than employees and contractors on a need-to-know basis who are bound in writing by confidentiality obligations, which are no less protective than those contained herein), or otherwise use the other Party's Confidential Information, except as expressly permitted under this Agreement. The provisions of this Section 10.1 do not apply to information that: (a) was rightfully in possession of either Party prior to receipt of such Confidential Information from the other Party, (b) is or becomes a matter of public knowledge through no fault of the Party receiving such Confidential Information hereunder, (c) is rightfully received from a third party without a duty of confidentiality, (d) is independently developed by the other Party without breach of these confidentiality obligations, or (e) is disclosed by either Party with the other Party's written approval. Each Party's duty to protect Confidential Information in accordance with the provisions of this Section 10.1 expires three (3) years after the date of receipt of the applicable Confidential Information. In addition, the provisions of this Section 10.1 will not restrict a Party from disclosing the other Party's Confidential Information: (i) to obtain or enforce its legal rights and remedies arising in connection with this Agreement; or (ii) to the extent required by any law or regulation, provided that the Party required to make such a disclosure uses reasonable efforts to give the other Party reasonable advance notice of such required disclosure in order to enable the other Party to prevent or limit such disclosure.

10.2. Injunctive Relief. The Parties agree and acknowledge that money damages may not be an adequate remedy for any breach of Section 10.1 and that either Party may, in its sole discretion, apply to any court of law or equity of competent jurisdiction for injunctive relief in order to prevent any such breach.

11. GENERAL PROVISIONS

11.1. Support Bundle. DataCore may from time to time require CSP to deliver a Support Bundle (as defined below) to DataCore (at its US headquarters or such other location as it shall direct) at the times provided in the Guide and at such other times as DataCore may in its discretion otherwise require. A "Support Bundle" is a compressed file that is created by DCSPP Software and contains system and other information relating to the use and functionality of DCSPP Software. A Support Bundle may be "mini" or "full" depending on requirement. DataCore may use the information obtained in the Support Bundle for support, product improvement, determining CSP usage of DCSPP Software, and audits.

11.2. Usage Data Transmission. Via DIS, CSP must enable continuous transmission of its DCSPP Software usage from each subscribed DataCore instance to enable accurate monthly billing. CSP must transmit no fewer than twenty-four (24) usage (or telemetry) data records per day per month (or other billing period as agreed by DataCore in writing) for each activated server group. The transmission of the telemetry data must begin upon activation of the DataCore instance but in no event later than four (4) weeks after such activation of any applicable server group, and thereafter, the CSP must maintain ongoing transmission without lapses. In the event less than fifty percent (50%) of the expected telemetry data records are received per month, DataCore reserves the right to access the data by means of a Manual (remote) Review Process ("MRP") and invoice usage accordingly. In the event telemetry data is not delivered per server group for two (2) or more months, usage invoicing shall be administered retrospectively by means of MRP until such time that the CSP delivers at least eighty percent (80%) complete and timely telemetry data records per month. No credits will be provided to CSP for any perceived over-billing by way of MRP. Refer to the DCSPP Policy Guide for further requirements and policies.

11.3. MRP Administration Charge. In addition to the data usage amounts invoiced to the CSP per Section 11.2, the costs of administering an MRP shall be passed on to the CSP in the amount of the full DataCore Professional Services daily rate in accordance with the then-current DataCore price list (the "MRP Administration Charge"). In the middle of a monthly billing period (usually 15th of the month), the CSP will be notified of server groups that have not delivered the required telemetry data records for the current month. If no telemetry data records are received for the server group by the end of the month, a support incident will be automatically opened to initiate MRP. The CSP will be informed of the support incident by email and will be required to upload a mini Support Bundle of the server group specified in the incident within five (5) business days. Based on the Support Bundle, the CSP's usage for the applicable server group will then be calculated retrospectively per Section 11.2. If no mini Support Bundle is uploaded within the five (5) business days, the incident will close automatically, the MRP Administration Charge shall be invoiced, and a new support incident for MRP shall be opened. The foregoing process will be repeated until the delivery of applicable Support Bundle(s) is achieved. The CSP is responsible to pay all invoiced amounts due pursuant to the terms of this Agreement.

11.4. Audit Rights. During the term of this Agreement and for a period of two (2) years from the date of its termination or cancellation: (i) CSP shall maintain complete, clear, and accurate records that demonstrate compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the CSP EULA, and the DCSPP subscription

- parameters, and (ii) upon thirty (30) days' written notice, DataCore will be entitled to audit CSP's books, records and use of DCSPP Software and any other DataCore materials provided by DataCore under this Agreement or the Guide, to verify compliance with the terms of this Agreement, Your DCSPP subscription, and all applicable DataCore policies. CSP shall promptly pay to DataCore or the Aggregator, as applicable, any underpayments owed to such party as revealed by any such audit, plus any applicable late payment fees. Any such audit will be performed at DataCore's expense during normal business hours, in a manner so as to try not to upset CSP's normal business operations and procedures, provided that CSP shall cooperate fully with DataCore and shall promptly reimburse DataCore for the cost of such audit if such audit reveals: (a) an underpayment by the CSP of more than five percent (5%) of the amounts payable by the CSP in connection with the DCSPP for the period audited (b) any evidence that CSP has violated laws, DCSPP rules or DataCore policies, or (c) any other material breach of this Agreement
- 11.5. CSP Indemnity. CSP agrees to indemnify and hold DataCore harmless from any loss, cost, liability or damage, including attorneys' fees, arising out of any third party claim, suit, or proceeding ("Action") brought against DataCore based upon: (a) any negligent act or omission by, or willful misconduct of the CSP, its employees or agents, (b) any omission or inaccuracy in the CSP's advertisements and promotional materials that relate to the DCSPP Software, (c) any representations made by the CSP relating to the DCSPP Software, or (d) the CSP's performance of services using or related to the DCSPP Software.
- 11.6. Relationship of the Parties. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as creating any agency, partnership, or other form of joint enterprise between the Parties. The relationship of the Parties established by this Agreement is that of independent contractors. Nothing contained herein shall constitute either Party the agent of the other Party or otherwise grant either Party the authority to bind the other Party to any obligation, or constitute the Parties as partners or joint venturers and neither Party shall hold itself out as being an agent, having such authority, or being a franchisee, partner or joint venture of the other.
- 11.7. Notices. All notices, consents, waivers and other communications required or permitted by this Agreement ("Notices") shall be in writing, in the English language, and shall be deemed given to a Party when (a) delivered by hand or by nationally recognized overnight courier service (costs prepaid), or (b) received or rejected by the addressee, if sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, in each case to the address referenced in the opening paragraph of this Agreement (or to such other address as the Party may specify upon written notice). Notices to CSP may be given by email instead of the other specified means and shall be deemed given when sent to the email address provided in the Application (which CSP may change by giving written notice hereunder). If Notice is sent to DataCore, it shall be sent to the attention of Contracts Administration, with a copy to the General Counsel.
- 11.8. Governing Law. This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida U.S.A., excluding the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods, and without regard to principles of conflicts of law. Each Party consents to the exclusive jurisdiction of the state and federal courts of Broward County, Florida U.S.A.; provided, DataCore shall at all times have the right to commence proceedings in any other court of its choice of appropriate jurisdiction to obtain an injunction, specific performance or other equitable relief for protection of intellectual property rights.
- 11.9. Force Majeure. Neither Party shall be in default by reason of any failure to perform any obligation (excluding any obligation to pay money) due to causes beyond such Party's reasonable control, including but not limited to acts of God, war, riot, embargoes, acts of civil or military authorities, fire, floods, earthquakes or strikes.
- 11.10. Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any rights under this Agreement may be assigned or otherwise transferred by a CSP, whether voluntarily or by operation of law, without the prior written consent of DataCore. Any assignment in violation of the foregoing will be null and void. Subject to the foregoing, this Agreement will be binding upon and will inure to the benefit of the Parties and their respective successors and assigns. DataCore may assign this Agreement, in full and without condition, to any acquirer of DataCore or DataCore assets.
- 11.11. Waiver. No delay or failure by either Party to enforce any right under this Agreement shall constitute a waiver of that right or any other right. A waiver of any breach or default under this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of any other right for subsequent breach or default.
- 11.12. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is found illegal or unenforceable, it will be modified to the minimum extent required to make it legal and enforceable, and the legality and enforceability of the other provisions of this Agreement will not be affected.
- 11.13. Government Contracts. All DCSPP Software delivered to the U.S. Government are "commercial computer software" as defined in DFARS 252.227-7014(a)(1), and are provided subject to the manufacturer's standard commercial end user license, pursuant to FAR 12.212(a). If applicable, such DCSPP Software is provided with "restricted rights", with use, duplication, and disclosure by the U.S. Government restricted as provided in either DFARS 252.227-7013(c)(1)(ii) (OCT 1988) or FAR 52.227-14 (ALT III) (JUN 1987).

Manufacturer is DataCore Software Corporation.

- 11.14. Service Restrictions. CSP acknowledges that the DCSPP Software is subject to export controls imposed by the U.S. Export Administration Act of 1979, as amended (the "Act"), and the regulations promulgated there under. CSP will not, and will require that the end service users do not, export, re-export, host, or offer access to (directly or indirectly) the DCSPP Software or associated technical data without complying with the Act and the regulations thereunder and will not export, re-export, host, or provide access (directly or indirectly) to embargoed destinations.
- 11.15. Injunctive Relief. It is expressly agreed that CSP's violation of Sections 4 or 10.1 will cause irreparable harm to DataCore and that a remedy at law would be inadequate. Therefore, without limiting DataCore's remedies that may be available at law, DataCore shall be entitled to an injunction or other equitable remedies in the event of any threatened or actual violation of any such provision.
- 11.16. Choice of Language. The Parties confirm that it is their wish that this Agreement, as well as all other documents relating hereto, have been and shall be drawn up in the English language only. Les parties à la présente confirment leur volonté que cette convention, de même que tous les documents, y compris tout avis, qui s'y rattachent, soient rédigés en langue anglaise. The English language version of this Agreement will control in all respects, and all other versions are for convenience only and are not binding.
- 11.17. Entire Agreement. This Agreement, the Guide, the CSP EULA and the Support Services Terms set forth the entire agreement between the Parties regarding the subject matter of this Agreement and supersede all previous communications, representations, understandings and agreements, either oral or written, between the Parties with respect to said subject matter. No modifications or amendments to this Agreement will be binding upon the Parties unless made in writing and executed by each Party, except DataCore may modify the Guide and its forms of CSP EULA unilaterally in its sole discretion. This Agreement does not constitute an offer by DataCore and it shall not be binding upon DataCore until it has admitted CSP into membership in the DCSPP. Notwithstanding the foregoing, DataCore, in its sole discretion, may amend the terms, policies, software, products, support, portals and plans associated with the DCSPP from time to time.
